"SILVER DICK."

"The East Rode the Republican Party to Disaster and Now They Bestride the Necks of the Democrats."

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 12.—The following letter from Hon. Richard P. Bland, the great apostle of bimetallism and an uncontrolled currency, was received by a gentleman in this city:

LEBANON, Mo., July 11, 1893.

MY DEAR SIR—I am in receipt of yours of the 7th inst. I am glad that you are still in the fight for bimetallism—in other words for the coinage of silver on equal terms with gold. I am also pleased to see that the St. Louis Chronicle is disposed to stand by us in this fight. The fight between gold monometallists and bimetallists is now intensely flagrant. Men and parties as well as public journals must take the one side or the other; there is no room for trimmers or doubters. The people are in earnest and suspicious of every doubtful sound

We want in this battle not only argument for bimetallism, but also results. It will not do to give the bimetallists the poor encouragement of "right, my good boy," and in the same breath advise all the legislation asked for by the gold party be given them.

The Sherman law must go, but its expiring breath must breathe into life legislation on the lines of true bimetallism. The timid and halting in our ranks have brought us to the expedient of the Sherman law and now insist on further waiting. Had we adopted the free coinage bill that I had passed through the House of Representatives in the last session of the Forty-fourth Congress all would have been settled in favor of bimetallism. Had the Senate agreed to this bill or the subsequent one that I had passed in the Forty-fifth Congress, we would have no silver question to-day. But no, we must wait. Wait till France and the Latin union get impatient with us and put further limits to their silver coinage.

During last Congress I did all I could to pass a free coinage bill in the House, the Senate having already passed it. But no; the tariff was the great issue. We must first reform the tariff. Now the tariff is brushed aside that silver demonetization may be accomplished. Had we then passed a free coinage silver bill the question would have been settled We would not have been confronted with the British demonetizing policy for India. How much longer are we to be controlled by the advocates of a waiting policy?

We are now by this dallying brought face to face with the question of total silver demonetization in this the greatest metallic power the world ever knew.

The repeal of the Sherman law unconditionally is all that is necessary now to accomplish the end for which the gold party has struggled from the beginning.

The Democratic party promised first of all a reform of the tariff. Tariff reform is no longer talked of except in bated breath.

The East proposes to formulate a tariff policy on the lines of the original Chicago platform, brought forward by the protection element of the Democratic party and not in harmony with the substitute finally adopted by the convention. They now also propose to repeal the Sherman law without granting the free coinage part of our platform.

The East rode the Republican party down to disaster and death, now they are bestride the necks of the Democrats. The East seems to have no use for the Government, especially the West and Southern portion of it, except to wring the last drop of sweat and blood from the people.

Our Eastern friends seem to regard the Democratic platform on the silver question as a mere seesaw. As the Sherman law end goes down the free coinage end must go up in mid-air and remain suspended there.

It is plain to all now that they played a huge bunco game on the Democracy of the South and West by lustily preaching tariff reform, a measure so popular here, but at the same time intending to spring upon us, after the election, the sole issue of silver demonetization.

If the representatives of the West and the South are true to their sentiments, this conspiracy will not succeed. If they are recreant, the people will hold them individually, if not collectively, responsible for their cringing cowardice.

The repeal of the Sherman law outright and substitute nothing for it would precipitate a silver panic throughout the world and probably cause its universal demonetization, a consummation devoutly wished by the gold party. It seems to me no true friend of silver could advocate such a policy.

If we ever intend the free coinage of silver in this country we must war for it now—right now. R. P. BLAND.

A Condemned Man's Sensations.

"A man gets used to waiting to be hanged like everything else," he said. "They have fixed the day for my death four times, and something has happened every time to save me. You think I talk flippantly about it, but it isn't that, only that I have become so accustomed to thinking over it that the horror is all gone.

"When I first stood up in Judge Murphy's court and heard him order me to be hanged it was awful. I can remember his very words. What worried me most, even then, was the attention of the people. Everybody was looking at me of course, and nothing seemed so cruel. When I first came to the jail I couldn't sleep or eat or anything, but gradually I dropped into the jail ways, and now the routine is as much a part of my life as going to work used to be.

"People have more than once asked me if I wasn't afraid to be hung. Of course I don't want to be hung, but I dont think that if the worst comes to the worst, that I'd weaken. I've been close to it; once they put up the gallows for me; I could hear them knocking the lumber together and I knew what it meant. They had the death watch on me and I had given up all hope. Don't you know that there was something of contentment about it? The suspense was over, I suppose, and it was something of a relief. The sheriff, though, refused to execute me while my case was still before the courts. Then the state supreme court decided against me and they set the day again.

"I thought that was the last of it, but Carroll Cook had taken hold of my case and he got it into the United States courts. Governor Markham respited me that time and they removed the death watch, and put the scaffold away again. I suppose I will be put in the condemned cell again with the death watch. That's the worst of it. You can't realize how helpless a man feels.

A GREAT FINANCIAL CRISIS.

The Silver Act of '90 Will be Repealed.

Office of Harvey Fisk & Sons, Dealers in United States Bonds, No. 24 Nassau Street.

NEW YORK, June 30, 1893.

TO THE DEMOCRAT.

Our country is threatened with one of the greatest disasters since the civil war. Its institutions are being shaken to their foundations. The demon distrust is stalking about the land, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, leaving in his trail the countless wrecks of the work of thousands of its honorable citizens.

The standard of value by which the money of the poor man and the rich man is measured, is being trodden in the dust. Instead of twelve inches to the foot, we are forced to accept six or a little over. The actual intrinsic value of our present silver dollar is but 53 cents, and growing less each day. Still this great American nation is obliged to calmly face inevitable ruin—the sweeping away of far more wealth than was involved in the great war between the north and south, simply because its representatives are not called together in accordance with the authority vested in its chief executive, and forced to remove from the statute books the law which is eating away the vitals of American honesty, of American credit, and casting into a great abyss a century of financial honor.

REPEAL THE SILVER ACT OF 1890. EVERY DAY'S DELAY MEANS UNTOLD RUIN AND HEARTRENDING DISTRESS. Our great United States is fast becoming a financial outcast among the nations of the world. The people of the United States are honest, yet our honesty is impugned.

We have made a mistake. We know it. It is the will of the people that this mistake shall be immediately corrected. Let the president convene congress at once and then let the people in all parts of the land rise up and with righteous indignation demand that this law be immediately repealed.

This is "a government of the people, for the people and by the people." Let every officer of every financial institution, let every merchant, let all business and professional men, let every workingman, telegraph or write to the president of these, our beloved United States, and demand that without another day's delay he shall exercise the right given him, and immediately convene congress in extra session.

Let there be no doubt left that at last every thinking man in this great country demands the protection which "the honest dollar" brings.

Very truly,

HARVEY FISK & SONS.

The above shows the earnestness and determination of the single gold standard horde. This circular is being sent broadcast all over the country with a view of bulldozing congress into demonetizing silver. This bosh about "public confidence" should stop. The productive power of a nation is the creative of its credit. our products outrank that of any other country and are sought by nations of every clime. To claim that we must adjust our finances to please the greed of any nation is an insult to American independence. Yes, "our institutions are being shaken" and "the demon distrust is stalking about in the land." Millions of our "working men" to day are wrecks, owing to the cruel manipulation of such men as signed to the above circular, and to-day, while "overproduction" of the necessaries of life is in our borders they seek to contract the currency, thereby decreasing the price of labor, and consequently doubling the debt burden of the nation and its citizens.

Yes, we want an "honest dollar"—a dollar that does not rob labor of its fruits. A dollar that will buy two bushels of wheat, four bushels of corn, five bushels of oats, eighteen pounds of cotton, is a dishonest dollar, and that dollar, these fellows are trying to make more dishonest. When the bloated bondholder howls it is patriotism, when the worker objects it is anarchy.

DAVIS—CRANE DEBATE.

Five Thousand People Give Ear to the Joint Discussion.

GRANDVIEW, Johnson Co., Tex., July 21.—Nearly 5000 people turned out to-day to hear the joint debate between Lieut. Gov. Crane and "Cyclone" Davis. The morning hour was consumed by Hon. Harry tracy, who spoke two hours in advocacy of well known populist doctrines. In the afternoon all who could get within hearing distance crowded around the speaker's stand to hear the debate. "Cyclone" opened up in an hour and a half arraignment of the federal democracy, and was followed by Gov. Crane in a two hours' reply, and a half hour rejoinder by Davis closed the debate. Both speakers were adroit in their arguments. The populists were largely in the majority and could outyell the democrats. Among those who heard the debate were Senator A. M. Douglass, of Hill, Representative J. D. Griffin, of Alvarado, Harry Tracy, of Dallas and Alonzo C. Scurlock, of Cleburne.

Shipments from Plano.

PLANO, Collin Co., Tex., July 22.—Two hundred and ninety-seven cars of wheat and oats of this season's crop have been shipped out over the roads here.

A protracted meeting will commence to-night at the Christian church, which has just been refurnished. Gen. Gano, of Dallas, will conduct the services.

The Central passenger and freight depot has received a new coat of paint.

At least one hundred cars of oats have been stored in warehouses here on account of the present low price.

The city is repairing the old sidewalks.

The westbound passenger on the Cotton Belt, due here at 5:47 p. m, now makes connection with the Central southbound here, which arrives at 6:38 p. m. instead of 5:27 p. m. The schedule on the Central changed to-day.

Residence.

WYLIE, Tex., July 22.—The residence of Col. Josiah Stone burned yesterday. Caught from a defective flue. Nothing saved. Loss about $2,500; insurance $1050.

NOTICE—GOVERNMENT BANKS.

Money to Loan at 2 and 3 per Cent.

DEPOSITS RECEIVED—EXCHANGE SOLD.

Notice is hereby given that the Government of the United States has established at all first, second and third class postoffices a banking department, which will loan money upon good and sufficient security at 2 per cent. on long time loans and 3 per cent. on short time loans. These departments will receive, care for and pay on demand, deposits of money in any sum. They will sell and cash exchange. Office hours from 7 a. m. until 6 p. m.

Secretary of the Treasury U. S.

The foregoing, if a reality, would gladden the hearts of business men, farmers, merchants, professional men and all save a very few. It is a form of notice that we hope sometime to see published as official. Here would be banks that would always have money to loan and be able to pay depositors on demand. Banking is one of the instruments of commerce, it is a public function that should be exercised by the government. Then the curse of centralizing the wealth in a very few people through the medium of interest should be done away with. Interest to the government would distribute wealth among 65,000,000 people, while interest to individuals transfers the wealth produced by the many into the hands of the few. Thirty-one thousand people now, through interest, own one half the wealth of the United States, very little of which was produced by the present possessors. Interest to the government would be a lighter burden than the same rate to an individual, because each borrower would be recouped to some extent by the interest paid to the government by others. Each person would be virtually a stockholder in the government bank. But at the present time, we presume the strongest argument for government banking is the absolute safety it would furnish and the ability to make loans at all times.—World (Mo.)

IS MARRIAGE A FAILURE?

VAN ALSTYNE, Grayson Co., Tex., July 22.—Last summer Mrs. Grubbs, a highly respected old lady, married J. M. Lane, a well to do farmer living four miles east of here. The marriage was a great surprise to the friends of both, and as usual in such instances was the occasion of much comment. Last week Mrs. Lane went to Denton county to visit her son and told her husband to meet her at the train on Friday of the following week. On the day named for her return the husband met the train, but his wife failed to keep her part of the agreement. She wrote him a letter, however, telling him that he need not look for her any more, that she had decided not to live with him again. She asked permission to send for her household goods, which request was granted. Mr. Lane says he cannot imagine the cause of his wife's action, as they had lived happily together. Mr. Lane is about 65 years of age and his wife about 55.

That "great and only" crank J. Sterling Morton, Cleveland's Secretary of Agriculture, says: "We have too much currency and prices of wheat and products are too high is one of the troubles with our financial situation to-day."

Nebraska papers say that this man comes as near representing the sentiment of the people of his state as a Hottentot would the court of St. James. —Sulphur Springs Vindicator.

How to Get Money in Circulation.

THOMPSON, Ok., July 20.—[To the News]—Inclosed is a squib I took from your paper of the 13th. which I wish to answer:

The question is how to get more money in circulation. The country might have in it twice as much cash as it now holds without any great relief from financial stringency unless some means could be devised to make the dollar circulate.

The first thing we want is the money to put in circulation and then any man with half a thimblefull of common sense can tell how to get it into circulation. Hee hee, you say. Well, then, I'll tell you. Instead of stopping the pensions, keep right on paying them and double every one whose pension is less than $30, and go right on until every man who was in the service thirty days has a pension. Then keep right on till the widows and orphans of the rebels are all pensioned.

Then, if that don't get it into circulation fast enough, loan it out to the farmers and mechanics. If a farm is a good security for a national bank, it is good enough for the government, and if a house and lot is good enough for a national bank, it is good enough for the government.

The national banking system has demonstrated one thing to a certainty and that is that the government cannot only make money, but that it can make it at a cost of 1 per cent. Now, if it can make it and loan it to the banks at 1 per cent it can loan it to farmers and others at 2 and make a profit at it.

If any pensions are cut off why not stop those where they are not needed? It is such persons as Mrs. Logan and others, who are getting from $2000 up to $5000 a year, whose money does not all go into circulation if any is kept out by pensions. The money that the poor men draw, the men who need it, all goes right into circulation. But they are poor dogs and should not have anything. The rich who do not need any help they must have it. Such a government ought to sink and it will if there is not a change pretty soon.

NICARAGUA CANAL.

Plan to Raise $100,000,000 Direct from the People.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The details of the meeting yesterday of the directors of the Nicaragua canal company to consider a new financial plan for raising money were made public today. It is said that a sub-committee was appointed to secure agencies in about seventy of the largest cities of the country to dispose of the securities at 90 per cent or 93 per cent. by selling them direct to the people in lots of one share and upwards. The most prominent feature of the plan to raise the $100,000,000 necessary is to avoid the calling in of any syndicate of capitalists.

Free Coinage Resolutions.

GUTHRIE, Ok. July 22.—The populists held a mass meeting here to-day which was attended by 5000 people. Hon. Ralph Beaumont, of Washington, delivered the address and resolutions were adopted demanding the free coinage of silver.

WE want an unlimited free coinage of honesty.

THERE are about 8000 idle workers in Denver, Colorado.

WE want the "purchasing power" of our products raised.

OVER two hundred national banks have failed since the first of January.

GIVE us more money and we will guarantee a sufficient amount of "confidence."

WITHIN the last few days millions of dollars of liabilities are reported in business failures.

THE predicted "wave of prosperity" dashed to pieces against the rock of "unsettled confidence."

IN the contentment of the wealth producers is the security of our nation. Give us an "honest dollar."

THE Dallas News of July 20, laid before the public an exhaustive review of the resources of the Lone Star State.

SOME of the old war horses of democracy are begining to discover that something is wrong. A lack of "confidence," for instance.

THE grand old ship of modern democracy has struck a leak. Some fellow pulled the plug of "confidence" and throwed it overboard.

ARE we a nation of industrial slaves? Must we ever fritter away our wonderful productions to satisfy the greed of foreigners? We hope not.

MCKINLEY of Ohio stands with gun in hand to protect his tariff bill. He need not fear. The powers that have long since lost sight of the "vital issue"

THE anarchists of Chicago have passed a resolution condemning the populist party. Thanks. We expected it. They now worship at the shrine of democracy.

THE opinions of leading democrats, who differ so widely, convinces us that the Chicago platform is made out of concentrated deception, mixed with a conglomeration of "misunderstanding."

THE catalogue of the Dallas State fair is before us. It contains a very large list of premiums for individual exhibits. We hope that many of the enterprising farmers of Collin will take interest in the fair.

HUNDREDS of men pass the doors of our merchants each day and see things that they need and would buy if they had the money. They have the products at home but the "purchasing power" of those products will not suffice. Merchants, help the producer to fight his battles against the manipulations of corporate greed. The interest of the producer is your interest.

NEWSPAPERS are prone to become mere gossiping sheets The public does not need a column account of a bride's dress and presents, or a four inch local of the "beautiful and accomplished Miss Roustabout." The columns of a good newspaper should be ladened with substantial matter—genis of originality.

THIS talk of "restoring confidence" is the greatest "confidence game" the people of this country ever witnessed. Confidence feeds not the hungry, clothes not the naked, cancels no debt, fills not the depleted exchequer and secures none of the pleasures of life which all producers should enjoy. Give us plenty of good government money, full legal tender, and we will hustle for the "confidence."—World (Mo)

IF the democratic party doesn't pass a law reforming the tariff during its present term of power I will hang my head in shame and refuse to face an honest constituency again and will spurn a democratic nomination.—Bailey at Copeville.

That is saying a great deal, but the Rustler is heart and hand with Mr. Bailey, and so should every other democrat in this country be. If a person or a party faithfully promises to do anything, that person or party should carry out, and fill, that promise. But we believe the democratic party will do this.--Wylie Rustler.

JOE BAILEY, the unripe congressman that represents the fourth district of Texas in the national house of representatives says that should the present congress fail to pass a free coinage act and reduce the tariff he will hang his head in shame and will spurn a democratic nomination for congress two years hence. As to the head hanging part of the declaration Joe's vote on that clerkhire bill should be sufficient. As to the spurning portion, the gentleman banks a great deal on the ignorance of the democratic party of his district, when he thinks they will offer him a nomination to spurn.—Greenville Banner.

THE COTTON BELT ROAD.

The state comptrollers report on the passenger earnings for the quarter ending July 16, as compared with the corresponding quarter in 1892 shows that the Cotton Belt's increase of passenger traffic is far ahead of other lines in Texas.

The superior facility of this road to accommodate the traveling public is, no doubt, the cause of the increase of patronage as shown in said report. The Cotton Belt runs through Pullman Buffet Sleeping cars and chair cars and couches between Waco, Corsicana, Ft. Worth, Sherman, Memphis, Tenn., and Cairo, Ills, without change, and is the only line offering such service from or between Texas and other points named. This report shows that the Cotton Belt is, as it should be, appreciated in its good and progressive efforts.

A RINGING ADDRESS!

Knowledge the Basis of Our Superstructure. Woman's Influence.

President R. S. Sneed's address to the Collin County Alliance, July 19. 1893.

To the officers and members of the Collin county Alliance: By the indulgence of a merciful creator we are permitted to meet again to transact business as a county alliance. Let me congratulate you on having done so much in the education and aiding in the great and necessary reforms so much desired, and more needed than in any period of our history. We have passed through a heated political campaign, in which our principles have been put to every test possible, by the enimies of reform, and like gold tried in the fire, tney only shine the brighter. It is true that some of our members, who were not able to see the importance of a united effort, and thinking it better to take the lesser of two evils, acted with those who were fighting our principles. But let us throw over them the mantle of charity and endeavor to show them the importance of organization and united effort of all; for we find wicked corporation and corporate monopoly siezing our industries and dragging the laboring classes down to poverty and disgrace as never before. While much has been done to raise the laboring classes to a higher plane of manhood and praiseworthy ambition, there is much yet to be done. Stand together as one solid phalanx and wage a vigorous war on all class legislation wherever found. It is to the industrial class we must look for preservation of our free institutions. All past history, in all ages of the world, proves that the agricultural classes have been the main stay of all nations, either in time of peace or war. It is to our, and kindred organizations, the industrial classes look for suggestions, that will not only protect, but free them from the power that threaten our destruction, not only for the present, but for future generations. The hope of our country and the welfare of our nation depend upon the education of the people. The better educated we are the better able are we to grapple with and understand the intricate problems of state which are continually arising in the political horizon. This is the corner stone on which all our superstructure must rest, and this is the weapon we hope to use in order to banish ignoronce, crime, poverty and distress, and by universal knowledge, tempered with love, justice and humanity, and by investigation, experience, together with unfaltering fidelity to the cause, accomplish that for which we are and have been striving. Then let us strive by every means in our power, each and every one of us, to seek so great a prize and hand it down to our posterity for their everlasting inheritance.

The declaration of purposes of the alliance gives the right to advocate the fundamental principles of government and to advocate them wherever found, yet it is not and can never be a partisan political organization, for it leaves every member free to use his or her judgment in religion and politics. It endeavors to enlighten every one as much as possible that they may be able to intelligently decide for themselves. The welfare of the nation, the material growth, the contentment of the people, and advancement of civilization, for all depends on its laws.

As the object of our organization is to educate, the question naturally arises, which is the best method to accomplish this much needed end? Some contend that teaching is the best method and while all admit it to be good yet lecturers must be paid which makes that method expensive. If we list men to the same [illegible] we soon become accustomed to his ideas and manner of expression and they cease to interest. As labor is so poorly rewarded it behooves us to economize in every possible way and as the press is acknowledged to be the most powerful factor in education, while it is the cheapest, we are compelled to look to it as our most important instrument in accomplishing the much desired object. When we wish our children educated we procure the best books and employ the best teachers we can command. Would it not be wise in us when we wish to inform ourselves to procure the best periodicals and books within our reach? We have a county and a state organ, the editors of which are using all their energies to collect the ideas of every one which, in their judgment, would interest their readers. This enables every one to get the ideas of, not a few, but, many of the ablest minds of the nation. They come every week and they come ladened with news from all parts, then let me insist on every one who is a member of the order to take at least one of our papers and when he has read it pass it to some one who is not, so that he may benefit others as well as himself.

The object of the alliance is to obtain that degree of happiness which elevates the mind, widens its conceptions, and beautifies the soul. One of the greatest aids to accomplish this is God's first and best gift to man, woman, the silvery tone of whose sweet voice our first representative was unable to withstand, even when fresh from the plastic hand of his creator who had pronounced him, not only good, but, very good, and since which time she has ever ruled the destinies of men and nations. David, the man after God's own heart, and Solomon, the wisest of men, yielded to her influence. Alexander, who conquered the world, and wept that there were none other to subdue, whose onward march the combined powers of the earth could not stay, yet yielding to the influence of even an Ethiopian woman. Napolean, the greatest military genius of the world, gave testimony of their influence. Andrew Jackson, the man with an iron will, when in great rage would yield immediately to the voice or touch of his wife. Abraham Lincoln said: "All that I am or ever expect to be I owe to to my mother." Many of the greatest statesmen and divines have left similar evidence. One has said: "Give me the mothers of the nation and you may have everything else, yet, I will rule it." She has ever been considered by the thoughtless as the weaker sex, both intellectually and physically, yet she is a guardian angel, in times of distress and trouble, the most faithful in adversity. She, it was, who was last at the cross of a crucified savior, and first at the tomb of a triumphant redeemer. Then, what might be expected of her in an organization that recognizes he as an equal of man in every respect? Education and religion has raised her to this position. To her we recommend our order, and ask her to use her influence for its demands, and use every energy she posesses to raise her sisters from their present condition, that they may be enabled to occupy the position that God and nature designed they should.

We would entreat each and all to use every God-given power to advance our principles.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Mr. W. C. Allen

Of Atlanta, Georgia, testifies that he was afflicted with Flying Rheumatism, the intense pain going from one part of the body to another. After taking seven bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla he was in good health. In two months he increased from 122 to 145 pounds in weight.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable. 25c.

The Silver Question.

Grover Cleveland, President Democrat Party:

My deer sir—as you are the President of the democrat party—and whereas you have seen fit to call congress together to settle this silver question and moreover as most of the congressmen are men who failed to manage their own finanshial matters—I thot may be a suggestun from a durned fool like me would be exceptible.

These newspaper men say that thar are now more 'en twelve thousand tons of silver bullion in the treasury of the United States—and moreover the said tresury has tried time and agin to get it out among the people and has failed to do so—now it does seem plain to my mind that if this silvur was made into spoons and divided out pro rata to each man and woman and child of these United States—(leavin out Ben Butler an hisn—as they got their share of spoons dur in the war.) I say ef this bullion was made into spoons an divided amongst the people as aforesaid, it would relieve the tresury and do away with much prejudice, occasioned by the old saying that sich and sich a won was bornd with a silver spoon in his or her mouth, as the case mout be, all would be on a dead levil so fur as spoons is consarned and then to declar the free coinage of silver at onst would enable these aforesaid folks to have their spoons coined into bright silver dollars and so the money would circulate. Hows that strike you? Why sir nothin like it has ever been before—an mor'n half the children born hereafter would be named Grover Cleveland. Should this strike you right, please put me and my wife on the list for six spoons apiece and maybe by the time the bill passes we may come in for six more. Can't say yet what we'll name it, but you can rest assured you'll not be forgotten if its a boy. No more at present.

Alliance Resolttions.

Whereas, it is our opinion that there is a deep laid plot coming from the seat of the British money power to force the civilized power of the world to a single gold standard money basis; and

Whereas, said money power is working through the executive department of our government and its agents in Wall street to force said system on our people by the unconditional repeal of the silver purchase act of 1890, known as the Sherman law; therefore be it

Resolved, that we urge upon our representatives in congress (in the name of an oppressed people, irrespective of political parties or organizations) to oppose the repeal of said law unless substituted by a law providing for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the rate of 16 to 1.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to Hon. J. W. Bailey, member of congress.

The Collin County Grocery Store.

Last Tuesday we wandered into the grocery emporium of E. M. Board, on the South East corner of the square. The shelves and every other available space was filled with the choicest of staple and fancy groceries. Canned goods and small packages, of every discription, were in profusion. Mr. Board is disposing of these goods at prices corresponding with the impending financial crisis.

Call and see him before placing your orders and you will meet a coterie who will make you feel comfortable, whether you wish to purchase or not.

Changing Diseases.

In that delightful book, "Ridder Grange," the husband of Pomona gives as his reason for not removing from a malarial neighborhood, that it don't do for a man at his time of life to go about changing his diseases and adding, that there are diseases incident to almost every locality, and he likes a disease he is used to.

Now, in case of malarial diseases, aside from the unwillingness of patients to "change diseases," it is generally not convenient to change their residences. If this were done in every case, some of our most thriving communities would be depopulated.

Nothing is left to do therefore but to fortify oneself against malarial influences. For this purpose Drs. Starkey & Palen's Compound Oxygen has proved itself in the past 23 years the most efficient thing in the world.

Any person desiring to change diseases for health should write us a plain statement of their case, when, if possible, the way will be pointed out. The consultation is without charge. Address Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1529 Arch Street, Philadelphia, or San Francisco, New York, and Toronto, Ont.

CONTINUES.

But McKinney, Her People, Her Banks, are all right, there has never been any Wind and Water at McKinney, not even in the advertisements of

Wylie & Baldwin

We advertised our summer goods last week, naming the list and left out a great many articles we sold on the same basis the trade and our success is a memorial of the truthfulness of our assertions. We add to list of last week our Low Quartered Shoes, Gents' Ladies' and Children, also Millinery; all our stock of Millinery is ready trimmed and must be sold. We have no expense in this department; Miss Baker is now in St. Louis, studying fall demands and we will not carry over any stock in Millinery. Suffice it all we have lost sight of profits until the expiration of the ten days advertised last week and Ten Days More added to it have expired and our efforts will be concentrated to reduce stock. Action has followed our assertions since our arrival in McKinney, that we feel we can now talk straight out from the shoulder and invite you as our friends to our store. Come to see us, no efforts will be spared to make it pleasant and profitable.

Respectfully,

Wylie & Baldwin.

Deafness Can't be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased proportion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitbtional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed concition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

A Sensation—A Man Cowhided.

Last Monday J. P. Levy, a former citizen of McKinney, but now, of near Celina, this county, was publicly cowhided by Mrs. Mattie Quarles, his step-daughter. The cowhiding took place in front of Wiseman's store at the north east corner of the square in the presence of a large number of people who gathered on short notice.

The woman is a wife of Hermon Gordon Quarles, a telegraph operator, who was, a few months ago, exonerated by the courts of Grayson county from the charge of forging railroad tickets. He had just returned from Pedras Nigris, Mexico, where he is employed by the Mexican National railroad.

To a DEMOCRAT reporter, he said. "When I arrived here I learned from my wife that she had been talked about disrespectfully by her stepfather, J P. Levy. I happened to pick up a letter directed to her by Levy which requested my wife not to call at his home anymore. My wife was worried about the affair and expressed herself as wishing to cowhide Mr. Levy. I told her to get ready and she should have a chance to gratify her wishes. We went to a harness house and purchased a whip. We met Mr. Levy in front of Wiseman's store. He was talking to some one when my wife spoke to him and began the work of cowhiding. He grabbed the whip from her hands, when I took it away from him and handed it back to her and gave him orders to stand and take the lashing in lieu of his slandering my wife. Levy once drew a knife but I made him put it back in his pocket. I watched my wife ply the whip until she became tired then I requested her to stop. "This is all that I have to say now, except that you may say publicly that any man who unjustly talks about my wife must receive such treatment. I will protect my family."

The reporter did not get to see Mr. Levy, but understands that he refused to say anything further than to acknowledge that he wrote a letter which asked his step-daughter and husband to remain away from his (Levy's) home and that he had sufficient reasons therefor.

Orvin and Jerry Holding a Consultation.

One day last week Jerry Magner, of the Gazette, and Orvin Brooks, of THE DEMOCRAT, armed themselves with shot guns, bowie knives, revolvers, belts and cartridges and left on the train for the B I. T. Whether they were on a hunting excursion or whether they were going to engage in the Indian rebellion is not known by us. They spent twenty-seven minutes in Denison and returned on the next train apparently satisfied with the brief absence.

"One of my customers came in to-day and asked me for the best cough medicine I had," says Lew Young, a prominent druggist of Newman Grove, Neb. "Of course I showed him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and he did not ask to see any other. I have never yet sold a medicine that would loosen and relieve a severe cold so quickly as that Remedy does. I have sold four dozen of it within the last sixty days and do not know of a single case where it failed to give the most perfect satisfaction." 50 cent bottles for sale by R. E. Bristol, druggist.

CYCLONE JIM

FORECASTS A GREAT POPULIST VICTORY.

Texas to Drop in the Column After Kansas in the Election of Next Fall. An Open Letter to Col. J. P. Smith.

Brother "Cyclone" Davis was in the city yesterday with a belt full of political scalps.

Brother Davis, as everybody knows, is the tall sycamore of the Populist party of Texas. He is also its leading basso. In earlier days he used to edit a religious weekly over in the piney woods, and then Brother Davis was known as "Methodist Jim," but he had not been on the stump more than a month before the present sobriquet fastened itself upon him. He is, as might be inferred from this, terribly in earnest on the subject of politics, and ready for a bout at any time with anybody. Yesterday at the Pickwick, Brother Davis and several gentlemen who do not agree with him engaged in a discussion relative to the views of Thomas Jefferson on finance.

The distinguished Populist claims that when he went for his saddlebags to produce documentary evidence of the accuracy of his claims his opponents, so to speak, vamoosed, hence his letter which he handed to The Gazette for publication:

FT. WOTH, Tex., July 22, '93

HON. P. B. SMITH.

Dear Sir:—Thomas Jefferson in writing to John W. Epps, chairman of the finance committee in congress, A. D. 1813, as found in volume 6, pages 137, 138, says:

"The earth belongs to the living, not the dead. The will and power of man expire with his life by nature's law.

"Each generation has the usufruct of the earth during the period of its continuance. When it ceases to exist the usufruct passes to the succeeding generation free and unincumbered.

"The soil is the gift of God to the living as much as it had been to the deceased generation, and the laws of nature impose no obligation on them to pay this debt. And although like some other natural rights, this has not yet entered into any declaration of rights, it is no less a law and should be acted on by honest governments. The modern theory of the perpetuation of debt has drenched the earth with blood, and crushed its inhabitants under the burthens ever accumulating. In speaking then for an ultimate term for redemption of our public debts let us rally to this principle and provide for their payment in nineteen years at least. I hope you and your committee will render the immortal service of introducing this practice."

In the same volume, page 605 and 608, while discussing the same subject of banking, finance and debt, in a letter to John Taylor, dated May 28, 1816, we find the following:

"The system of banking we have both equally and ever reprobated. I contemplate it as a blot left in all our constitutions, which if not covered, will end in their destruction, which is already hit by the gamblers in corruption, and is sweeping away in its progress the fortunes and morals of our citizens. Funding, I consider, as limited rightfully to a redemption of the debt within the lives of a majority of the generation contracting it; every generation coming equally by the laws of the Creator of the world to the free possession of the earth he made for their subsistence, unincumbered by their predecessors. And I sincerely believe, with you, that banking institutions are more dangerous than standing armies, and that the principle of spending money to be paid by posterity under the name of funding is but swindling futurity on a large scale."

Now, Mr. Smith, having known you for many years as a prominent citizen and having often seen your name mentioned in connection with the office of governor and other high positions and respecting you as such, I ask your patriotic consideration of these questions as being fundamental and as taught by Jefferson.

In our colloquy at the Pickwick hotel you will remember I stated these principles to have been taught by Jefferson, and the Populist party was the only party representing them.

With much respect, I am, yours,

J. H. DAVIS.

"It depends," said he, "on what congress does at the special session. If it demonetize silver, you Democrats might as well pack your grips and prepare to walk."

"Won't you leave us a few congressional districts in Texas?"

"You might manage to scratch in down in the coast districts, but everywhere else you will be beaten out of sight. Things are moving and the people are waking up. In my county, Hopkins, the Populists were beaten by 200 in the last election. If the vote were to be taken now we would have a majority of 500. In this congressional district we have every county except Tarrant, and in the Dallas district Dallas is the only county safe for the Democrats if silver gets a black eye next month from their party. You have no idea what a change is going on, and you won't know until the returns come in from the next election and then there will be a surprise."

"Will you form any combination in the next state campaign?"

"We intend to keep right in the middle of the road, welcoming everybody who comes to us."

"I see," said the brother with a chuckle, "that Judge Clark has got in line with Cleveland on the finance issue, and that means his party will stand out in the next campaign as the regular Democrats. With this exception it will be the same fight over again, but the results are going to be different. There will be new alignments.

The white Republicans, as a rule will permanently join the Clark wing. They say Cleveland is sticking to the tail of John Sherman and that suits them well enough. The free coinage Democrats who held on last year under a solemn promise of financial relief are not going to be deceived any more. They will drop off in a slump and every one of them will join our ranks. We are as certain to have Texas after the next election as that time rolls around."

No Leagues with Despots.

At the time the Russian treaty was signed, in spite of the protests of the press, it was said that a secret understanding had been reached between the czar and the president, by virtue of which the czar, in return for the signing of the treaty, would assist the president in carrying out certain plans of foreign policy.

Now it is asserted that Russia is to make one of our ports a headquarters for its men-of-war.

Whether or not this is in pursuance of any secret agreement made to secure the signature of the Russian treaty, it is very unwelcome to the great majority of patriotic and liberty-loving Americans of all parties.

The founders of our government have repeatedly warned us against entangling alliances. Their policy was unrestricted commerce, and friendly relations with all nations—entangling alliances with none.

And surely there could be no alliance more entangling or more un-American than one with the Czar—the worst of living despots. No true American can think without shame and indignation that an extradition treaty has been signed in which the administration of this government acknowledges the right of the Czar to hunt nown Russian patriots who have taken refuge with us.

A secret understanding with Russia could not be worse than what has been done openly in signing this treaty, but it may be as well to say now, that the American people will not tolerate it.

They will resent, as an insult to them and their institutions, the continued presence of Russian ships in our waters. If Russia undertakes to make one of our ports a headquarters, the people will carry the matter into the national campaign and never cease to agitate it until the country of freedom is no longer used for the convenience of this worst of all despots.—St Louis Chronicle.

Information Wanted.

In a recent Gazette interview Mr. Barnett Gibbs disclosed the interesting fact that as the commissioned organizer of democratic clubs in this state, he was during the last campaign officially requested to suspend discussion of the finance issue, on the ground that it was not pertinent. Mr. Childs, the bosom friend of the administration, whose paper is its accredited organ, now declares that the tariff is not an issue, which provokes this outburst from Mr. Henry Watterson:

"The story credited to the Phialdelphia Ledger, and greedily siezed by the robber Barons as 'authorized,' that Mr. Cleveland is not in agreement with the tariff plank in the national democratic platform, may, or may not, have foundation. If it has, infinite discredit will come to the president. But Mr. Mills is on record to the declaration that Mr. Cleveland did not contribute a single vote toward the passage of the Mills bill, and, whilst Mr. Cleveland's recalcitrancy might, and doubtless would, delay tariff reform, it could do nothing else."

If it was undemocratic to talk finance before the election and is undemocratic to talk tariff after the election, will Chairman Harrity please advise us where we are at.—Fort Wort Gazette.

"Where are We at"

Instead of the democratic party, as Warwick Clark puts it, accepting President Cleveland's views when he was made the party nominee and president, it became his duty to obey the will of the majority or resign. The creator is never under obligations to the creature. No one is so foolish as to believe that a majority of the democratic party is with Mr. Cleveland in his financial views, let all know that a vast majority of the party, is against his financial views. It was and is his duty to carry out the will of his party or resign.—Van Alstyne News. (Dem.)

Don't You?

When you want newspaper favors you strike your home paper, don't you?

If you want your town boomed and your property increased in value you expect your home paper to do it for nothing, don't you?

And you preclude the home paper from the town is a good place for it, by not giving it sufficient patronage, don't you?

You are mighty free about telling what a good thing for the town a home paper is, but how backward when it comes to helping the paper with cash, ain't you?

You are mighty anxious to have the home paper spend money with you, but you are careful to spend as little as possible with it, ain't you?

The home paper don't charge you interest on back subscriptions, but you wait till the last moment to pay for it, don't you?—Ex.

Labor is above capital and deserves much higher consideration. * * * The money power will endeavor to prolong its reign by working upon the prejudices of the people until all wealth is aggregated in a few hands and the republic destroyed. * * * Class laws, placing capital above labor, are more dangerous to the republic at this hour than chattel slavery in its haughtiest supremacy.—Abraham Lincoln

"I Board at a good hotel when in Washington. I would not disgrace my constituency by boarding at a cheap 'hash house,' I will give my salary to any man who will pay my expenses."—J. W. Bailey at Copeville.

If Mr. Bailey cannot live on $416 a month in Washington, what in the thunder is to become of that $100 a month clerk. What this country needs is a few more plebian congressmen who have got the nerve to live on less than $416 a month, even in Washington. Thomas Jefferson and a long line of patriotic Americans did it. Old John Sherman has done it. Why, Old John has saved $5,000,000 out of his salary during the last twenty years.—Sulphur Springs Vindicator.

DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four month before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly,

MRS. HELEN MORRISON.

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for seven years, and have been cured by the use of two packages of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part. W. L. LUTEGAY.
